Cuticura Soap and Ointment Entirely Relieved "That Awful Pest."

"I have been using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for the past three months and I am glad to say that they have cured me of a most annoying skin eruption. It began by my noticing red blotches appearing on my face and scalp. At first I thought they were due to a cold, but they did not go away. I began to use a different soap, thinking that my old skin might be hurt by the new one, but I did not do any good. I went to two different doctors but neither seemed to relieve me. I lost many nights' sleep in continual scratching, sometimes scratching till I drew the blood on my face and head. Then I started in to use the Cuticura Remedies and in two months I was entirely relieved of that awful pest."

"If anyone seeks information as to how good Cuticura Remedies are, let them to me as one who used it successfully. I am delighted over my cure by Cuticura Remedies that I shall be glad to tell anybody about it." (Signed) G. M. Macfarland, 221 West 116th St., New York City, Oct. 5, 1910.

Cuticura Remedies afford the most economical relief for affections of the face and scalp. A cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient to cure every case. Circuit Court of Appeals Renders Decision Intended to Prevent Monopoly.

In sustaining a verdict in the lower court the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday, in session here, ended an alleged monopoly which has held sway for years in Cumberland, Md. The case decided was that of the Cumberland Gas Light Company, plaintiff in error, against the West Virginia and Maryland Gas Company, in error. The Circuit Court at Baltimore, in which a demurrer to the declaration, filed by the defendant, was upheld and yesterday affirmed in the appellate court by Judge Dayton, Judge Pritchard concurring, and Judge Goff dissenting.

The Cumberland Gas Company sought to drive the West Virginia corporation from carrying on business, and for damage to the interests of the plaintiff the sum of $100,000 was asked. The decision of the court is important in view of the fact that it declines to recognize the right of any one company to do an exclusive business in any community, even though it has a franchise to do so, subject to the approval of the town authorities.

A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh, N. C., was admitted to practice in the Court of Appeals.

Cases Argued.

The following cases were argued yesterday:
No. 1023—State of Maryland to use of James V. Fryer et al., appellants, vs. Andrew Miller and Kunkunda Miller, appellees and cross-appellants, Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, and Board of County Commissioners of Baltimore county, appellees; appeal from the District Court at Baltimore, Md., continued from Wednesday. Cause further argued by Arthur L. Jackson, of Baltimore, Md., for the appellants, and submitted.

No. 1024—Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, plaintiff in error, vs. N. M. Stokes, an infant, by her next friend, D. J. Stokes, defendant in error. In error to the Circuit Court at Wilmington, N. C. Cause argued by Harry Skinner, of Greenville, N. C., and Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington, N. C., for the plaintiff in error, and by E. B. Bryson, of Wilmington, N. C., for the defendant in error, and submitted.

The following case will be called to-day:
No. 1027—Healy Ice Machine Company, appellant, vs. R. Greece et al., appellees, appeal from the Circuit Court at Raleigh, N. C. To be argued by A. B. Andrews, Jr., of Raleigh, N. C., for the appellant, and by Harry Skinner, of Greenville, N. C., and S. B. Shepherd and T. H. Calvert, of Raleigh, N. C., for the appellees.

WILLIAMS' BRAVE ACT.

Gets Carnegie Medal for Saving Life of Child.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Lynchburg, Va., May 4.—The announcement of awards made Monday in Pittsburgh by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, which names Richard C. Williams as one of the beneficiaries of the fund, and who is to receive a bronze medal and $1,000 for a heroism accomplished by Williams at Reusens, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, on June 16, 1906.

Williams, who has just been honored by the board, at the time was a fireman on the railway, and he saved the life of a two-year-old child by hurrying over his engine when he saw the danger of the child, and with his foot pushed the little toddler out of harm's way. From what can be recalled by persons then familiar with the act of heroism, the child was about to cross the track, and would probably have been killed but for Williams' bravery. He knew it would be impossible to stop the train before it reached the baby, and he hurried to the pilot, who arrived just in time to push the baby off the side of the track and keep it from being killed.

At that time Williams was only twenty-three years of age, and he has probably forgotten about the incident. It is not known here how the matter came to the attention of the Carnegie board.
